

Erica Deutsch

OFFICE MANAGER

HR Director. Marketing Coordinator.
Woman of many hats. That is Erica.

Erica often refers to herself as the “dabbler” since she moves from task to task throughout her week. With a degree in Communications and a passion for the black and white of numbers, she is able to do this with ease. The rest of the office relies on her juggling act to get those practical business things done like invoicing and keeping our certifications up to date.

It only makes sense then, that the most meaningful core value to Erica is balance. Keeping all the balls in the air, knowing where things are filed and managing a full personal schedule with two kids and volunteerism requires equilibrium.

“Do your timesheets! As the Office Manager, I am in charge of keeping the creative-types organized and on task. Being organized and helping others do the same is something I have a natural knack for.”
